

Research Proposal Review:

Considering your thoughts on your chosen area of interest for your project:

Which of the methods described in this week's reading would you think would suit your purpose?

I believe quantitative research methods would suit the purposes of my project.

Which data collection methods would you consider using?

Data collection methods such as case studies, surveys/polls, and experiments (including observations) could be considered